According to FAO figures in 2021, we can calculate the total poultry production of WPSA-APF members regions were taking very high percentage of the world total production on all the main sectors:

- slaughtered chickens: 40.12% ;
- meat of chickens: 31.76% ;
- laying hens: 64.14%;
- egg in shell: 60.89%
- slaughtered duck: 92.53%.

Advantages

According to “China animal husbandry industry statistic” in 2021, in China, there were:
Over 40,000 farms with scale more than 10,000 laying hens;
Over 32,000 farms with production of more than 50,000 chickens for slaughtering;
The total poultry production for slaughtering was more than 1.574 billions.

China has achieved obvious progress on native genetics and breeding development.

The farm and house equipment level in poultry sector is already very high, and smart management system has been put in use practically.

Although with massive vaccine, to some extent, China has effectively prevented the wave of global Avian Influenza with China model.

Already in post-COVID stage, now it is a right time for people from overseas to take international trip to go to China to travel and investigate industry since 2020.
